

Department of Romance Languages

THE LANGUAGE RESOURCE CENTER

Invites you to a series of workshops:

TECHNOLOGY TOOLS FOR RESEARCH IN LANGUAGES, LITERATURE AND LINGUISTICS

Fall Semester 2007

Research is an exciting and challenging enterprise and it helps to be organized from the onset. Technology can help. In this series of LRC workshops, we will learn how to use technology tools to help search for and organize our readings, create bibliographies and navigate and fill out those intricate Human Subjects forms.

Galileo Demystified: Finding Articles Online

Friday, September 21, 2007 - 5:00- 6:15

Gilbert hall 118

Laura Shedenhelm, Reference Librarian

Main Library, UGA

We will discuss how to distinguish between the UGA library catalog and the GALILEO databases and understand why one would search in both and how they interact; then we will review some of the more widely applicable GALILEO databases (MLA International Bibliography, Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts; Academic Search Complete); finally, we'll provide time for hands-on searches for participants to work on papers and/or literature reviews.

Navigating the Human Subjects IRB Training and Applications
Time and day to be arranged
Gilbert Hall 118
Benilda P. Pooser, Ph.D., Human Subjects Administrator and Larry Nackerud, Ph.D., Chair, IRB
Boyd Graduate Studies Research Center, UGA

If your research involves working with human subjects then you will be required to submit an application for approval through the Office of Human Subjects and you may be asked to complete the IRB Training Initiative Course or CITI, which is a comprehensive, web-based training program on the protection of human research subjects (HRS). In this workshop we will discuss why it is important to protect HRS and offer practical advice on submitting the appropriate application form.
